It is important for all young people to be able to tell safe people when they think something happened that should not have happened. We understand that this can be hard and young people need to be brave about telling the truth. To help young people feel safe and to learn about how to make sure the right people know you need help, we have this form to help.

1. Your Mercy Community team will report what you have shared
2. Your Mercy Community team gathers information about this information to help find out what happened
3. Child Safety will look at all the information and what you have said and make a decision on what should be done to keep you safe. Making this decision can take time, but we work as quickly as possible because your safety is really important
4. After a decision is made, Child Safety will come let you know the outcome. There will always be an outcome.
5. Your Mercy Community team will keep supporting you to make sure you are safe.
